Although rotworms have no use for mundane items. They will drag corpses back to their lair for later meals. Often these stinking piles will contain weapons, armor and coin. However, organic materials such as leather will be ruined due to the beast's necrotizing bacteria. [NOTE: Perhaps anyone digging into the piles ought to test TOUGHNESS at DR12 or succumb to the infection detailed above in SPECIAL.]

11 A profligate noble has run afoul of a banking cartel. The noble has taken out a rather large loan and refused to pay. To heap injury upon insult he has imprisoned the cartel's collector, save for the collector's ear. The ear was returned to the cartel in a silk-lined coffer. The banking cartel is offering 100s each to anyone able to smuggle codworm eggs into the noble's woods. (NOTE: The collector at the eggs are not the same as the filthy hags.)
